

Call for applications: New residency program “Body Time Space” at radialsystem in 2021

Within its new residency program “Body Time Space”, radialsystem invites two Berlin based artists or groups for a residency of four weeks in 2021.

The aim of these residencies at radialsystem is to enable dance professionals to develop and deepen their existing artistic focus in an open and safe environment. The residency in this case stands for an openness towards the artistic process and acknowledges that time and space are essential for artistic development. Therefore they should be understood as a space for pre-conceptual experimentation – beyond a concrete production.

During the residency phases, the artists are invited to reflect on their own work in transdisciplinary exchange with international dialogue partners from other fields of knowledge and/or artistic disciplines. The process can be opened to the public in the context of studio visits, public performances, workshops or exhibitions on the stages and in the studios of radialsystem. In addition to a grant, the dancers receive technical support, dramaturgical assistance and production or press/marketing coaching by radialsystem's staff if required.

“Body Time Space” offers:

- A working studio (approx. 200 sqm)
- Period of 4 weeks
- Grant of 2000 Euros for each artist involved in the project (max. 3 participants)
- Technical equipment (by arrangement and subject to availability)
- Support by technical personnel (by arrangement and subject to availability)
- Professional advice in financing, project management, press and public relations, dramaturgy (if required and by arrangement)
- 2 interdisciplinary dialogue partners
- Opening the working process to the public: workshops, exhibitions, performances, studio visits, live streams

To apply for the residency, please send the following documents by November 24th by e-mail to residenz@radialsystem.de

- Curriculum vitae
- Three examples of previous work/projects with video links if available
- Letter of motivation (max. 2000 characters), including a brief outline of the topics and questions to be addressed during the residency
- Two examples of possible dialogue partners
- Target period in 2021
- Number of participants* (max. three)

The residency program is aimed at professional dance artists and choreographers residing in Berlin, of all ages and backgrounds. We particularly invite artists to apply who have not received any public funding from the city of Berlin for productions in 2021. We actively encourage artists representing the diversity of the Berlin dance communities to apply!

The residency program is not available to artists, who receive a scholarship or grant from the State of Berlin which would cover the same period as the residency. In addition, students who are enrolled at a university or training centre (dance/choreography department) after December 1, 2020, are not eligible to participate.

For any questions concerning the application procedure, please contact us at residenz@radialsystem.de

Body Time Space is part of the pilot project “Residenzförderung für Berliner Tanzschaffende” (Residency Funding for Berlin Dance Professionals), in which the Senate Department for Culture and European Affairs has announced and awarded residency programs for the first time in 2020. Together with eight other venues, radialsystem will offer residencies to Berlin based dance artists until the end of December 2021.
